45 NEW CASES AND 7 DEATHS

announcing that charges would be preferred against Surgeon White for reporting to Surgeon General Wyman that the city was infected, based on the case of Mrs. Guerico, who developed yellow fever shortly after her arrival here. When shown the dispatch, Dr. White said he did not care how many charges were filed and that he intended to report facts whenever he discovered them.

"An examination of the mortuary reports of Memphis will be found interesting in this connection," said Dr. White.

Last week's Memphis mortuary report has attracted a great deal of local attention. It shows that out of 54 deaths, ten were from malaria, five from typhoid, two from anæmia and one from nephritis. Mistakes are often made in diagnosis, it is contended by local physicians.

Meeting Memphis and Mississippi are beginning to have some of the experiences of New Orleans in the matter of hasty quarantines. Texas has quarantined Memphis people and Baton Rouge and other towns in Louisiana have quarantined the whole state of Mississippi. On the other hand the steady improvement in the New Orleans situation is having effect on the authorities in Mississippi and it is expected that their influence will be used against restrictive measures in the future.

The authorities continue to have a great deal of trouble with the Italians in the parishes just above New Orleans. Extraordinary efforts are made to conceal cases and report is made of the throwing of the body of a yellow fever victim into a well near Kenner in order to prevent the discovery of the case.

The fever at Gulfport has caused the Mississippi coast towns which have not become infected to double their quarantine guards and to completely stop intercourse with towns under the ban. Ice boats from the Biloxi canning factories are not allowed to enter the waters of Ocean Springs which is seriously interfering with the shrimp business. A section foreman who ran the quarantine in a box car has been fined $50 at Ocean Springs.

The appearance of fever at Natchez and Lake Providence has caused Monroe to put on a tighter quarantine. It has also resulted in increased restrictions by Arkansas. The effect of the action of the latter state threatens to annual traffic over the Iron Mountain. A train on that road passing through Monroe has been stopped at the Arkansas line and turned back. Monroe is therefore without a northern outlet. Natchez people, however, are making no effort to escape north through Louisiana. They are going east by way of Jackson. A dozen coaches loaded with refugees has already left the Mississippi city.

The local situation steadily grows better. In spite of the cool weather there has been no increase in the death rate, the small number of fatalities in the past 24 hours having an exceptional fine effect. On the same date in 1878 there were 57 deaths.

Sister Mary Engelberta, the young religious who fell a victim to the fever in the convent of Perpetual Adoration only entered the order two weeks ago. She was a native of Bavaria and had been in this country three years, making her novitiate. She leaves a sister in the same order and other relatives in Europe.

Professor Boyce of the Liverpool School of Tropical Medicine has delivered his first lecture at the Temple Sinai. He was given a cordial reception. Professor Boyce said he had been here long enough to realize that splendid work was being done under the direction of the federal authorities and expressed the opinion that an immense service would be rendered to the civilized world by the success of the campaign, which he felt was assured.

FOG AND NERVE SAVED VESSEL

FROM CAPTURE BY JAPANESE
—STEAMER'S CREW TELLS STRANGE STORY.

By Associated Press.
Seattle, Wash., Aug. 29.—The steamship Centennial reached port last night after a voyage to the mouth of the Amur river, for which place she sailed from San Francisco June 12. The officers say the fog and their captain's nerve saved them from capture by Japanese. Under command of Captain Strand the Centennial sailed from San Francisco with a cargo, the principal part of which was salt, although she carried some flour. It is understood by the ship's officers that she was under charter to a man named Louri, who claimed that he was taking the cargo to a cannery, which he owned at Nikolaisvsk, which is some distance from the mouth of the Amur. The Centennial dropped anchor fifty miles off Nikolaisvsk. Here she was obliged to wait for nineteen days before she could discharge her cargo and get away. Although the cargo of the Centennial was said to have been shipped by a private party, the fact that work of discharging was done by Russian soldiers caused the officers and crew to have suspicions as to whether or not it was private use.

TO ROOSEVELT'S DAKOTA CABIN

Crowds Flock at Portland Exposition Where Ranch Domicile Is on Exhibition.

Portland, Aug. 29.—Questions of politics and opinions for or against the President's policies apparently bear little weight with visitors at the Lewis and Clark Exposition, for the Roosevelt cabin in the North Dakota section of the Agriculture and Horticulture building has interested visitors from every state in the union, and of every political creed. The cabin brought from the ranch which the President owned in the eighties and set up again at the fair, is the striking feature of North Dakota's most interesting showing.

A register is maintained within the cabin, where visitors may inscribe their names. Four books are now filled with names of 75,000 visitors who have registered. The registered visitors constitute only a small proportion of the number who visit the cabin. The total is estimated at half a million. The cabin is built of logs, which are whitewashed on the inner side, and every available inch of space bears a scribbled signature. Visitors have written their names on the window sills and the door casing, and the little placards describing the several Roosevelt relics are black with signatures.

WOMAN WALKED FROM OPEN BRIDGE

BODY SANK IN CHICAGO RIVER AND COULD NOT BE RECOVERED.

By Associated Press.
Chicago, Aug. 29.—In sight of hundreds of passengers crowded about the rail of the steamer Eastland, a woman walked from the partly swung bridge into the river at Wells street last night as the bridge moved back into place after the passing of the excursion boat. The efforts of a dozen life-savers who leaped from boats and docks to the river were futile, as the victim failed to rise to the surface after the fall.

The playing of the excursion boat's searchlight about the spot and shrieks of the whistle caused much excitement on the boat and among passengers in the Northwestern railway depot. Scores of suburbanites missed trains while they lingered about the docks and added in the search.

Descriptions of the woman given by the scores of witnesses who saw her walk from the bridge differ materially, but the police believe she was about forty years old, and of matronly figure and aspect.

RAN AWAY WITH BARBER WHO KISSED HER.

Meridian, Miss., Aug. 29.—"Billie" Williams, a barber, last night eloped with the wife of J. C. Crump, a merchant of this city, and it is believed that the fleeing pair have gone to some point in Tennessee.

The elopement is the sensational denouement of a series of incidents that at first awakened an amused public interest. Saturday morning Crump made affidavit against Williams in a justice court, charging him with kissing his wife. This not being a statutory offense where the lady consents, Williams was discharged Saturday night. Crump learned that the couple had planned to elope and take with them his two daughters. In anticipation of this move he had the police arrest Williams, who was released early Sunday morning. Sunday night he was joined by Mrs. Crump and they took their departure while the injured husband slept. Crump insists that the law pursue the fugitives and punish them as they deserve.
